Ham Was Hard to Find.

Mrs. M. G. Quackenbush, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer. She tells this story of a railway ham sandwich: "A man paused bitterly in the consumption of a very hard, dry railway ham sandwich and said to the maid behind the counter: 'don't see no ham in this.'
'You ain't come to it yet,' said the maid with a smile. A minute or two passed. The man's jaws worked gloomily.
Then they stopped again, and he said: 'I don't see no ham yet, young woman.' 'Oh,' she replied, 'you've gone and bit over it now.'"

Try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for Rheumatism.

Mr. J. W. Jamison, a merchant of Newport, Iowa, says: "I have sold Chamberlain's Pain Balm for several years and have recommended it for neuralgia and rheumatism, as well as for more common pains, and it has given good results. I sell more of it than of any other liniment I carry, and cheerfully recommend it to the public. For sale by Arcadia Valley

Japanese School Appliances.
South China is being covered with Japanese educational appliances specially adapted for Chinese use—school books, maps, globes, anatomical and other charts—all helping to rescue the people from their ignorance. Every school teaches physical and military drill. In every town of any size, and often in villages, there are now schools with foreign fittings for teaching western learning.

I ain't feeling right to-day.
Something wrong I must say.
Come to think of it that's right.

Ed. Register—I have spent more than two months with my brother and family, who are living on a farm three and one-half miles east of Columbus, which is the county seat of Cherokee county.
Columbus is a real nice clean town with a population of about 3500; it is connected with many other towns by electric car; has three railroads, waterworks, electric lights, and many use gas for fuel and light.

The industries of the country consist of farming, stock raising, mining, and making blasting powder, which is used principally in coal mines.

This is a prohibition state, but it keeps the officers busy arresting and fining people for selling, unlawfully, intoxicating liquors in the mining camps. Forty-two have been arrested since I have been here; they usually pay their fines by staying in the county jail.

This is a rolling prairie country, with a few small streams. The land is laid out in sections; every mile the roads cross; the roads are fine if there is no mud, but very bad when it is muddy. All stock is kept up, geese and everything.
The fencing is wire and hedge.

In Columbus there are four drug stores, four dental offices and nine or ten physicians, two public school buildings and a high school besides many business houses.

There are twin boys in the house here. They will be three years old in April and they are certainly fine boys. If I am not down stairs by eight o'clock they come up to see me, make inquiries about my health, and ask if I don't want them to telephone for the doctor.
Everybody here is very kind to me, and all show me a good time.
My health is much better than when I came. I am now able to stay up all day, and go driving often. The weather is fine; only had a few cold days. We are always glad to get the REGISTER and Fredericktown paper.

Very respectfully,
CLEMMA DOWNS.

How the Tariff Protects the Laborer.

Frank A. Harrison, a prominent Nebraska republican, who is now the recognized leader of the La-Follette forces, has written a letter to the Lincoln (Neb.) Journal in which letter he says that the American people demand: First, an immediate revision of the tariff, so that the 'protection' now given to the manufacturing trusts shall be extended so as to include protection to the laborer and consumer. Second, defeat of the ship subsidy scheme—that donation asked for by the manufacturing and transportation and trust partnership."

In the same letter Mr.
Harrison says: "There is in this country one mammoth combine which controls the manufacture of all things made of iron and wood—the articles of necessity which enter the homes and farms of Nebraska. This same combine controls the transportation lines to the seaboard, and to a great extent the steamship lines to foreign countries. This applies particularly to ships flying the American flag. When I speak of what these combines are doing in foreign countries, to the prejudice of the American people, I speak of what I have seen with my own eyes. When I say that the freight steamers running south from the United States, the ones which it is particularly desired by the schemers to subsidize, are in close combination with the tariff-protected trusts, I say what I know to be a fact. Articles that are used by every farmer in Nebraska, like barb wire, for instance, are made in Pennsylvania, hauled to the seaboard, placed upon ships, carried 2,000 miles or more, unloaded into lighters, ferried to shore, and carried upon backs of men to foreign merchants who then sell the goods at retail at a lower price than any Nebraska merchant can buy the same thing at wholesale.
It is apparent that the protected factory which can sell goods to the foreigner at half the price it charges the home consumer is a monstrosity. The laborer for the factory has his wages based on the lowest price of the product.
Therefore the American laborer is not protected, but is already in close competition with the laborer in the foreign factory. So in the game, this kind of 'protection' is for the benefit of the manufacturer solely, while the laborer and the home consumer get skinned. Yet we have trust representatives and members of congress who want to donate funds of the government to this monstrous combine. Instead, the congressmen should at once demand a removal of the tariff wall to a point where competition actually threatens, so that the American consumer may get the same benefit that the American manufacturer is so keen to grant to his foreign consumer."

Simple Remedy for La Grippe.

La grippe coughs are dangerous as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package.
Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists.

The Same Old Crowd.

The same old crowd that foisted Parker onto the Democratic party as a presidential candidate in 1904 are the ones now behind the alleged movement to ask Bryan to step aside for a man of their choosing.
They have had their day in court and were given a full and fair trial and they are simply wasting their time and energies in asking to be given a new trial. Bryan cannot, if he would, refuse to run for the presidency this time, for the people will not have it any other way. The Belmont-Parker-Daniel crowd had as well go back and sit down, for the more they have to say about Bryan standing aside, the more determined the people will become in behalf of his nomination. Bryan can poll a million more votes than any other Democrat in the United States and is going to be nominated and elected, the old crowd of money changers to the contrary notwithstanding.—Moberly Democrat.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover.
Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid the disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs.
M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says, "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs.
Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once.
I used it for some time and it cured me. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by the Arcadia Valley Drug Store.

The Power of the Press.

That which constitutes the power of the press, dwells not in the great dailies of the cities but in the great aggregation of the country weeklies. The country weekly comes directly in contact with its readers, as the metropolitan dailies do not; and it both acts upon them and is acted upon by them, with an effectiveness that the city daily knows nothing of. The country weekly is both an organ and an agency of local opinion.
Its duties as an organ of local opinion it cannot evade without reaping an immediate and unpleasant reward. But it can evade its duties as an agency for the creation of local opinion, and many country weeklies do. This is the weakness of the country weekly, and the "boiler-plate" editorial factories of the cities help it along when the editor is not an editor. But many country editors are editors, and these are the men preeminently who in journalism are fostering the best impulses and the truest judgments that give character and force to public opinion.—The Public.

MADE HIS BLUFF STRONG.

Trouble Was the Horse Would Not Be Reasonable.

Charles H. Wilson, the superintendent of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's remarkable stables, said at Newport of a groom he had discharged: "The man was a bluff. He pretended to know all about horses, when in truth he could hardly tell a hackney from a cow. We soon got on to him. His case was like the fake blacksmith's.
There was a chap who thought blacksmithing looked simple and easy, and so, being out of work, he decided to have a try at it. He went to a smith and asked for a job. 'Well,' said the smith, 'you are a strong, likely-looking fellow. What experience have you had?' 'Eleven years,' was the prompt answer. 'All right, I'll try you,' said the blacksmith. 'Shoe that mare while I go home to dinner.' The smith, on his return from dinner frowned, and said to the new hand: 'What, haven't you got that mare shod yet?' The bluffer bit his lip, flushed and replied:
'I can't get her confounded foot in the vice.'"

A Vain Boaster.

A farmer in central New York state has in his employ a man named George, whose understanding is not very acute. One day as his employer came out to the field where he was working, George hailed him: "Say, boss, who do you like best, Mr. Gorman or Mr. Carney," naming two ministers whose churches are in the neighborhood. "Well," said the farmer, "I couldn't say. I never heard Mr. Gorman preach." "I don't like that man Carney," said George; "he brags too much. I went to his church last Sunday and he didn't talk about anything but his father's mansions and brag about how much finer they were than any one else's."—Lippincott's Magazine.

They Speak Very Highly of Cham- berlain's Cough Remedy in Saskatchewan.

In a recent letter Mr. J. H. Ellis, of Ellisboro, Sask., says: "Many have spoken very highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr.
Geo. Page, of this place, bought a bottle of it for himself and found it did him good. He also found it most useful when one of his children took the croup. He had noticed that it was recommended for that disease, but was surprised and pleased with the quick relief which it afforded, and especially so as it saved him a ten mile drive for the doctor. For sale by the
